Support available for students and post-docs at ICVR 2017

The International Conference for Virtual Rehabilitation (ICVR 2017) with support from the CIHR and CRIR encourages the participation of students and post-doctoral fellows.

Ample opportunities are planned for students and young investigators to interact with keynote speakers, established scientists and clinicians at ICVR 2017.

Students/post-docs can benefit from:

-  Reduced registration fee (Can $250).
-  Travel and accommodation stipends (Can $600).
-  Best Platform Presentation awards (TBD).
-  Best Poster awards (TBD)

The deadline for submission of platform and poster presentations is Jan 20th, 2017 at 12:00 pm. For platform presentations, submit a 6-8 page paper, first authored and conceptualized by the student/post-doc (e.g. dissertation/thesis or other original work). For poster presentations, submit a 2-page abstract. Top papers will be competing for a Best Platform or Best Poster awards.

Travel and accommodation stipends will be awarded based on scientific quality (top papers) and demonstrated needs.

Submit papers and posters according to the directions posted at: <http://virtual-rehab.org/>. To be considered for these awards, identify yourself as a student or post-doc. For travel and accommodation stipends specifically, please also provide a letter from your supervisor, duly signed, with the following information: confirmation of student or post-doc status, justification of financial needs and relevance of conference for the candidate's training.

The deadline for submitting the supervisor's letter of support is April 14, 2017.

Send the supervisor's letter or for any other information regarding student stipends and awards, please contact Anouk Lamontagne at: icvr2017awards@gmail.com
